

Hello Year 6,

How are you all? It's been a very strange two weeks for me without you all; I have definitely missed you. How are you doing with your learning packs? I hope they've been keeping you busy for part of the day. If you finished your biography writing, could you make it look like a book and design a front and back cover? If you haven't already started your first work pack then try to get on to that soon. Remember it's important that you keep practising all of the skills and knowledge you've learnt so we can jump straight back in when we return to school.

I have been busy planning work to go into your next pack and writing the afternoon plans for summer. There's lots of exciting things coming up for us in Music, History and Geography so keep those vocal chords warm. I have also been in touch with the whole Year 6 Team regularly (we set up a HouseParty call - have you all been video calling friends and family too?) including Ms Walsh who also misses you all and is busy at home making displays including a History display of your amazing poems.

I know this is an odd situation but remember it won't last forever so keep your spirits high and, whilst working is still important, make sure you have some free time too. Using free time to do positive things you enjoy will make you feel relaxed and happy. Exercise is a great way to release any stress and give you positive energy. Has anyone been doing Joe Wicks in the morning? I know I've tried on a few occasions but I'm sure you're all far better at keeping up with it than me!

I'm sure by now lots of you are getting excited for Easter - I know I am! I hope those of you that celebrate Easter get lots of chocolate to eat and have a really good day with family. You could even create a scavenger hunt around the house to find the eggs (or something else) and write cryptic clues for your family to follow. Your challenge, if you want to give this a go, is to make the clues rhyme. Have fun!

Be safe, kind and happy my 6's,

Love Mrs Deacon
